Practicing at the intersection of law and technology

QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER

THE FUTURE OF LAW

We wrapped up our four-part series with Richard Susskind on a high note. With over 1200 registrations for the series, we were thrilled to see such a strong interest in exploring the future of law. Our audience comprised legal leaders from top tech and Fortune 500 companies, along with prominent legal authors and influencers.

We hope everyone gained valuable insights on navigating the imminent changes in the legal industry. As Susskind emphasized, "I don't think AI is going to turn the law on its head over the next couple of years, but as we move through this decade we will see fundamental, irreversible, pervasive change."

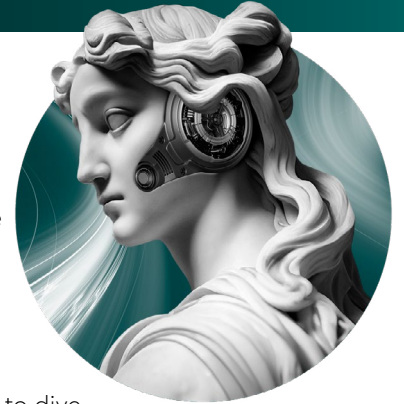

There were many key takeaways from the series with Professor Susskind, and we have summarized them for you on our dedicated webinar series page. Click the button below to access the full webinar summaries and exclusive video content:

WELCOMING OUR NEW CLIENTS

We are proud to have CloudFlare and The Boundary join our esteemed roster of clients.

A WORD FROM OUR FOUNDER

An excerpt from David's discourse during the recent "Tomorrows' Lawyers" webinar hosted by Providentia.

"Intelligence on its own is not enough. Technical legal skills are not enough. Lawyers (and companies) need a broader set of characteristics, professional competencies, and legal skills that, when taken together, produce a whole lawyer."

"We work with Providentia to find high quality tech-savvy attorneys when our clients have resource difficulties scaling up for projects or covering employee leave. David & team were recently able to provide a full-time 6-month privacy attorney for a global adtech company looking for the kind of intense support which is extremely hard to resource. For secondees, you'd definitely benefit from reaching out to Providentia."
